ELECTRICAL SUPPLIES

In a Few Light Remarks

we desire to dissipate the idea that electricity costs too much for ordinary people. It is with this purpose we are engaged in

AN ELECTRICAL CAMPAIGN

We propose to make a strong canvass among those who would like to use electricity if the cost were not too great. Send us word and we will call and give you an estimate of how little it will cost to have your house wired for it.

UNIVERSITY NEWS ITEMS.

President Edwin A. Alderman, who was advised by his physicians several months ago to suspend work and go abroad, has just returned to America after a sojourn in England, France, and Holland, and is spending a few weeks at present with his wife and little son in Massachusetts.

Dr. Richard Henry Whitehead, dean of the Medical Department, returned to the University yesterday, after two or three weeks in the woods of northern Maine.

Professor William Minor Lile, who was in Europe last year on leave of absence, has returned to the University, and will resume his duties at the opening of the next session, September 10, as professor of law and as dean of the University Law School.

It is likely that the number of students in the law school the coming session will be unusually large, since all who enter after the next session will be required to spend three years in residence work for graudation.

A great need of the University at present, though it is one not frequently thought of, is the need for a large number of additional rooms in the college as student dormitories. Hundreds of young men have written for rooms in college during the summer, only to be told that every room in college during the summer, was already engaged. Since the State has so well provided for its young men by reducing the University fee, by building an excellent dining hall for the special use of students, and by other means too numerous to mention, the important matter of rooms at low rates of rent for every man who desires one should not be overlooked.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve but just one original. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

The Sultan Suspected.

Constantinople, Aug. 17.—Constantinople was filled with sinister comments today aimed at the sultan, as a result of the death yesterday of Redjeb Pasha, the minister of war in the new cabinet, which was reported as due to appoplexy, but which is believed today to have been a case of suicide or murder by poison.

The death of Redjee, regardless of its cause, has brought to public attention the dissentions that have already cropped out in the new ministery and the seeming impossibility of the sultan's working in harmony with the cabinet officials in every question affecting the country.

Despite the sultan's acceptance of the new conditions forced upon him and his attempts to appear happy in the face of being shorn of power, he is in a most evil mood and the young Turks are already accusing him of conniving to overthrow the new constitution and to return to the other regime of absolutism just as soon as possible.

The sultan thinks Grand Hasha Vizier Kimmil really engineered the movement which forced him to grant the constitution. Like several of his fellow ministers, Kimmil was but a few months ago a fugitive from the sultan's vengeance.

THREE HUNDRED POUND SNAKE.

A remarkable snake of the Python species, found only in Java and Borneo, has just been brought to the United States by the British steamship Hudson, which arrived at Point Breeze to load for China and Japan. The snake, which was sold to John Edwards, of Philadelphia is 24 feet long and weighs 800 pounds. For years it had been known by the natives of Borneo to live and feast on human beings and animals in the great forest of the interior. It had been known to catch a wild horse and after crushing it to death to devour the remains at one meal.

It was finally captured by dragging the remains of a wild horse, which it devoured and was soon put to sleep. Captain Fenton, the master of the Hudson, stated that the big reptile was stowed in the hold of his vessel for three months, during which time it ate nothing, but simply slept. The Chinese cook now and then saw signs of life, but Captain Fenton warned him of the consequence if he did not keep away from that part of the vessel.

A VICTIM OF LEPROSY.

"On my travels in Venezuela," said a New York man, "I stayed in a hotel with a young man in whose family there was the taint of leprosy, though he apparently did not have it. One night sitting at dinner he became angry at a waiter and brought his hand down on the table with full force. He instantly realized that he did not feel the blow, and sat looking at his hand, his face whitening with horror. 'Give me your knife, Bob,' he said to his chum. He grabbed the pocket knife in a frenzy and stabbed the side of his hand with vicious cuts from finger tip to wrist. You may not know that leprosy appears in the side of the hand, numbness being a sign. The man did not feel the cuts. He arose from the table, knocking over his chair, rushed out into the courtyard of the hotel, and we heard the quick bang of a revolver shot, telling us how he had conquered the leper's cure by ending his life."

TUESDAY EVENING, AUG. 18, 1908.

WORD reaches officials of the administration from Paris that the American tariff commissioners who went to the French capital a while ago for the purpose of reaching a better understanding with the French government on various tariff matters, find themselves up against what seems very much like a stonewall. The American commissioners were armed with a large bundle of complaints from American exporters, alleging that the French customs authorities had been persistently and flagrantly discriminating against American products seeking entry into France. When these complaints were laid before the French tariff commissioners appointed by the Paris government to negotiate with the American commissioners, the Frenchmen came back very promptly and gravely with a long series of similar complaints from French exporters to the United States, who alleged that the United States customs authorities were bearing down with almost intolerable harshness on their business. The French commissioners, moreover, made a general attack on the American tariff laws, which they designated in diplomatic language as the abomination of almost prohibitive high protection in contrast with their own tariff laws. The latter, the French commissioners claimed, were mere free trade makeshifts as compared with the provisions of the Dingley act. In short, the French commissioners, who are among the ablest men in the French service, made it entirely plain from the outset of the negotiations that if anything was to be accomplished in the way of reaching a better understanding between the two governments, very material concessions would have to be made by the United States in the interest of French products seeking admission to this country. It therefore seems probable that the work of the American commissioners who are now in France will come to nothing, or, if an agreement is reached, no announcement of it will be made public until after the election.

No more active ruler has appeared in recent times than King Edward VII, of Great Britain, who will leave behind him the reputation of a most capable diplomat. On Tuesday he met Emperor William, of Germany, at Cronberg, where he had a long talk with the German monarch, a conversation which was followed by a conference between the latter and Sir Charles Hardinge, of the British Foreign Office. On the following day King Edward visited the Austrian Emperor, Francis Joseph, at Ischl, and Sir Charles Hardinge spent a long time in conference with Baron Von Aerenthal, the Austro-Hungarian Minister for Foreign Affairs. It is understood that Turkey and the Balkans were the main topics discussed in the conference, and that the agreement was reached that the only possible attitude for the powers of Europe toward those trying to establish a more enlightened rule in the Ottoman empire was a sympathetic one, which would involve abstention from any action which would embarrass the supporters of the new regime.

DETAILS of a discovery that promises to be more important for mankind than the finding of gold in California has been received from Idaho. This is the production of a new variety of wheat by a farmer in that state; a grain which yields from 100 to 200 bushels per acre, instead of the twenty or thirty bushels of ordinary wheat; which can be grown successfully in any part of this country; withstands heavy winds and even hailstorms; grades up to "No. 1 hard," and produces superior flour. The magic kernels, it is said, were found in Alaska by the Idaho farmer while prospecting for gold.

WIFE abandonment is on the increase in Chicago. Cases of husbands deserting their wives and children have become so frequent in the last ten months that charity workers regard the situation as epidemic. Between 300 and 400 cases have been reported to the Chicago Relief and Aid Society since last November. This is 50 per cent. higher than was reported in the same period last year. Lack of work is one of the causes advanced, but pure cussedness covers a majority of the cases.

REPRESENTATIVE JENKINS, chairman of the House committee on judiciary and one of the lieutenants of Speaker Cannon, is having the fight of his life out in Wisconsin to retain his seat. The opposition is based mainly on his adherence to Mr. Cannon and the part he took in killing reform legislation. Straws show the way the wind is blowing.

Word was received at Albany, N. Y., yesterday that the entire Catskill Bay section of Lake George, including the Catskill Bay House and a dozen cottages, had been burned. The fire started about 9 o'clock that morning from a defective flue in the Mayflower cottage, owned by Mrs. N. F. Nelson.

Figures made public by the Bureau of Immigration today show a further decresse in the tide of incoming aliens. During July, only 27,570 immigrants were admitted, a decrease of 72 per cent. as compared with the figures for July, 1907. The number debarred from entery—585 last month—is a decrease of 57 per cent. over the same month last year. Russia still furnishes the largest number of aliens, 6,198, coming to this country in July. Italy remains second, with 2,451. During July only 558 Japanese were admitted, as against 1,724 in the same month last year.

Ambassador Leishman, at Constantinople, has reported to the State Department that after several years effort he has succeeded in obtaining transfer of title of property destined for the American College of Girls, at Constantinople to Secretary Barton of the American Board of Foreign Missions. When this land was first selected as the site for the college, objections was made to the transfer, because a member of the sultan's family had set his eye on the same piece of ground, and desired to erect a royal residence there. The success of Ambassador Leishman in finally securing title for Barton is supposed to be another out growth of present political conditions in Turkey.

In an imposing document, covering 42 solid typewritten pages, and teeming with reports of fistic encounters, and contract with stove lids and other domestic weapons, a south Boston, Mass., man today appealed to the Department of Justice for assistance in triumphing over the temper and strength of an Amazonian wife. The correspondent declares that, although the Boston police have slightingly declared him insane, two alienists have examined him and swear it is not so. However, he says he really ought to be "after such a hell of a life, with such a hell of a wife."

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

It is reported that the town of Gore Bay on Manitobian Island has been almost wiped out by fire. Fifteen business places and eight residences went up in smoke. Loss $150,000.

Admiral Robley D. Evans was retired today from the navy after nearly a half century's active service. Tonight Admiral Evans will be tendered a reception in the hotel at Lake Mohonk, N. Y., to celebrate the close of his career as an admiral.

After coming within one mile of the French coast and almost equaling the record of Capt Matt Webb made 33 years ago, T. W. Burgess, one of the strongest swimmers in England, had to give up his struggle in the English channel this morning after struggling against the storm.

Several thousand Italians who are celebrating at White Plains, N. Y., the feast of San Rocco are convulsed today over an attempt to kill Father Mariaaro. The priest, because of the hard times had urged his congregation to give up the feast and by so doing had aroused much bitter feeling. Two bullets were fired through the window of his bed room.

The verdict of acquittal in the case of Corporal John J. Cooper and Private William J. Gwinnell, of the Eleventh Cavalry, accused of the murder of two Cuban fishermen named Pujol and Gonzales at Coloma, Cuba, on March 14, which has just been rendered, has stirred up a bitter feeling against the special provisional court which tried the case. The court is accused of disregarding the evidence and of rendering a prejudiced verdict.

Friends of Mrs. Annie Tomlinson, of New York, well known as a writer on woman's fashions, are today aiding her to spend $50 she won at Huntington, L. I., by taking a plunge in the surf garbed in her lingerie. Isaac Makeel, of the Dry Goods Economist paid the fifty. Mrs. Tomlinson, who is petite and pretty was enthusiastic over bathing at a luncheon at the Chateau. "The water looks good enough to jump right in." I'll bet you fifty you would not dare" said Makeel. "I'll show you" was the answer and Mrs. Tomlinson led the way to the beach.

Arthur Lane, of New York, the aeronaut who suffered a fractured skull and other injuries in a fall from his balloon at Luna Park, Buffalo, N. Y., last night, died today.

Reports published in New York today that if there became grave doubt of Taft election, President Roosevelt would take the stump in his behalf are absolutely denied at the executive office at Oyster Bay.

Residents of Eureka, Cal., were terror stricken at 3:45 o'clock this morning by two distinct earthquake shocks. The whole city was jarred by the tremors. No serious damage to property is reported.

The parliament House of Bloomfontin capital of Orange River Colony, is under a heavy guard today to prevent a reptition of yesterday evening's invasion by four thousand of Dutch unemployed. The invading army, many of them women with babies in their arms storme' the chamber and succeeded in reaching the speaker's chair before police reinforcements arrived and drove them from the building.

The Pope Refused.

Geneva, Aug. 18.—Displeasure over the pope's refusal to view with favor the immediate elevation of Archbishop Farley, of the New York diocese, to be cardinal is today given as the reason for hasty departure from Rome yesterday of Cardinal Gibbons and Mgr. O'Connell.

Cardinal Gibbons, it is reported, strongly urged the pope in repeated interviews to heed the desire of the American Catholics for another cardinal, pointing out to him the present disproportion towards America and Europe, in favor of the latter, of the Vatican's favors. To all the cardinal's arguments, however, the pope was unyielding declaring that he feared the modern trend of American Catholicism and that as long as this extremely liberal spirit was so much in evidence he would not favor an increase in American representations. At a later date, the pope declared, the demands of America might be granted.

Inquiries made at the Vatican today brought the reply that the Americans had "merely finished their visit." Neither the pope nor Papal Secretary Merry Del Val would discuss further the question of the proposed elevation of Archbishop Farley.

In an interview at Milan, the cardinal admitted that he had urged upon the pope the creation of another cardinal for America but that he found the pope firmly opposed to such a move at the present. The cardinal declared that he would be muchpleased if several additional cardinals were named to share with him the responsibility of his position.

Mrs. Mary C. Hoge, wife of Flavius Hoge of Loudoun county, died Monday at Georgetown University Hospital.

Jesser & Wiltshire, who operated a confectionery and ice cream parlor at Lynchburg, assigned yesterday with liabilities of $9,000.

Mrs. Mary Ann Green, widow of John Green, late of Stafford county, died in Washington on Sunday, aged 81 years. Her remains were interred today at her former home in Stafford.

Mrs. Eleanor Willis Pendleton, wife of M. Edmund Pendelton, died at her residence yesterday. Mrs. Pendelton was a daughter of Mr. Nathaniel Wills, of Charleston, Jefferson county, West Va.

K. C Henderson fell through an elevator shaft at Staunton yesterday morning and narrowly escaped death. He stepped into the shaft at the Beverly Hotel when the elevator was up and fell some distance, sustaining injuries to his back.

Charles Stata, a farmer, four miles north of Abingdon, was killed by lightning during a storm yesterday afternoon, and his two sons were probably fatally shocked. They were working in a field when the storm came and they took refuge under a near-by tree, which was struck.

A series of heavy thunder storms passed over the lower valley yesterday afternoon and last night. Since early in the afternoon the mills in Winchester operated by electricity from the big power house at Millvale have been at a standstill, and last night Winchester was in darkness.

The coroner's jury investigating the death of John H. Tyler, whose body was found in Shockoe creek, Richmond, several days ago, brought in a verdict yesterday that the man came to his death under circumstances unknown, but that the evidence adduced was sufficient to establish the belief that the man had been murdered.

Miss Bertie McCorkle and Miss Gertrude Paxton, who live near Midway, near Staunton, were struck by an engine on the Norfolk and Western Railroad while driving to Sunday school at Mount Joy. Their horse became frightened and dashed across the track. The locomotive struck the hind wheels of the buggy, smashing the vehicle and throwing the girls against a cattleguard. They were picked up unconscious. No bones seem to have been broken.

Alleging cruel treatment to his wife, who claims to have been brutally treated by H. B. Blunt and W. S. Blackburn, dog catchers, C. K. Lassiter, in Richmond, yesterday placed his case in the hands of attorneys for prosecution. The case arose out of the capture of Fannie, a fox terrior, which accompanied Mrs. Lassiter to the old market and while there fell into the net of the men employed to rid the streets of worthless canines. In the suffle for possession of the dog, Mrs. Lassiter sustained severe bruises. She asserts positively that she was shoved, cursed and roughly handled by the men.

William Krause, for more than a quarter of a century caterer at the Masonic Temple, Richmond, fired a bullet into his head at his home early yesterday morning, dying almost instantly. He left no note or letter. He was alone in his room at the time. Suffering, due to illness, intensified by the excessive heat, is the reason assigned for the act. Mr. Krause was stricken with paralysis three monthsago. He arose and walked to the rearof his home, where he aroused his wife and requested her to gets cup of warm water. Mrs. Krause went at once to the kitchen and was drawing the water when she heard the muffled report of the pistol.

Fire early Sunday morning destroyed the home of Judge James Lyons Taliaferro, near Gloucester Court House, many heirlooms of silver, china and furniture being lost in the ruins. The home was one of the most interesting in the state, having built in 1658 on land granted by the crown, and having descended through generations of the Booth, Thurston and Taliaferro families to the present owners. There were portholes in the doors, which were used in Indian warfare. The place, now called Church Hill, was formerly known as Mordecai Mount, after Mordecai Cooke, immigrant. The fire originated in the servants' quarters adjoining the house. The monetary loss of $5,000 is as nothing to the loss of relics which can never be replaced.

News of the Day.

Joseph Braxman, of Martinsburg, W. Va., was beaten and robbed by highwaymen yesterday.

Two babies at Chicago were killed by seizing a live wire yesterday, thinking it was a kite string.

Rodney Rose, a keeper at the Washington Zoo, was bitten by a vicious rattlesnake yesterday and is not expected to live.

A Long Island mob yesterday battered down the outer door of a jail and would have lynched a negro accused of assaulting a woman but for armed resistance by the sheriff.

Miss Carrie R. Haney, of Stanardsville, and Reuben B Dean, of Elkton, who eloped from their homes to Hagerstown, Md., were married there yesterday by Rev. J. H. Jeffries.

Mr. Charles Mills, son of former Senator Roger Quarles Mills, who is a patient at Johns Hopkins Hospital, yesterday expressed himself as more than pleased with the improvemeet shown by his father.

In response to President Roosevelt's invitation to visit him at Oyster bay and discuss the Cuban situation, Governor Magoon, accompanied by Capt. J. A. Ryan, of the Fifteenth Cavalry, will leave Havana tomorrow for New York.

A company is now being organized in Germany with a preliminary capital of $125,000 to establish a line of passenger airships between the principal capitals of Europe, backed by the Krupps and by leading bankers.

An investigation into the disposal of the estate of the late J. P. Montague, of Brooklyn, N. Y., which is being conducted by the Supreme Court, has disclosed the fact that he left about $200,000, and that the entire estate has been bequeathed to a young clerk who acted in the capacity of confidential adviser to Mr. Montague. Mr. Montague is survived by several relatives, all of whom will make a fight for their share in the estate.

It is said in Minneapolis that the price of both wheat and bread will be higher this fall.

Carrying his left arm, severed by a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train, George Nagle yesterday staggered two blocks to a Chicago policeman and fainted after telling that he had fallen between the trucks of a freight.

Word has been received of the drowning at Colton's Point, Md., Sunday afternoon, of Ernest E. Burns, 16 years old, son of Patrick J. Burns, formerly foreman of the bindery at the government printing office, Washington.

Heirs of Joseph Ball, a revolutionary soldier, of Wheeling, W. Va., will bring suit to reclaim land worth $50,000,000 in the States of Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. One of the heirs is Mrs. Mary Hubbs, of Parish, Va.

The Bristol News, an afternoon paper, of Bristol, Tenn., has been purchased from A. C. Smith & Son by Congressman W. P. Brownlow, of the First Tennessee district, and Bascom Slemp, of the Ninth Virginia district, both republicans. The paper will be published as a republican organ.

A tiny spark flying from a retort in the works of the Baltimore Retort and Fire Brick Company, Baltimore at 1.15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, started a fire that resulted in the distruction of the plant, and caused a damage estimated at about $50,000, on which there was insurance to the amount or $25,250.

Fire yesterday destroyed the Kaatskill House, in the Kaatskill Bay district of Lake George N. Y., and three cottages. Many women were in the fire brigade made up and some of them received minor cuts and burns. Several men were slightly injured. The loss will approximate $100,000.

Randolph Riley, a negro, hacked his white wife to death with two razors at Asbury Park, N. J., last night after she had shot him in the stomach in a fight over the possession of a revolver. Riley will probably die. The negro was still slashing at the woman when Policeman Mooney, attacted by the woman's screams, rushed into the house and pulled him off.

Mrs. Mary A. Given, sixty-five years old, was knocked down and fatally injured by a runaway horse at Seventh street and Massachusetts avenue northwest Washington at 6:25 o'clock yesterday evening. She died soon after being taken to the Emergency Hospital. Mrs. L. B. Latta, sixty-five years old, who was with Mrs. Given, was knocked to the ground and sustained severe injuries. The horse was frightened by an automobile.

In the midst of last night's storm in Washington, a bolt of lightning struck the home of J. Campbell Malcolm, at Chevy Chase, while Malcolm and his family were watching the spectacle from the closed windows. The family were thrown to the floor, and when they scrambled to their feet the house was afire, and they found it necessary to flee into the storm to save their lives. The building was damaged $1,000 and part of its contents destroyed.

The testimony in the divorce suit of William H. Fisher against Mrs. Edith Ridgely Fisher, who startled Baltimore society a few months ago by eloping with William B. Rayner, son of Senator Isidor Rayner, has been completed and is now in the possession of the master in chancery in Baltimore. It is thought that it will be presented to the court in a few days. W. Irvine Cross is Mr. Fisher's attorney. So far no attorney has entered his appearance for Mrs. Fisher.

Arthur Kennerly, proprietor of a laundry establishment at Salsbury, Md., was severely cut yesterday morning with a razor in the barber shop of James Ball. While Kennerly was in a chair getting shaved Ball, who was using the razor, stood with his back to Kennerly, stropping the instrument, and turned around with the razor open in his hand. In doing so he struck Kennerly's leg with the blade, inflicting a gash three inches long and one inch deep. It was necessary to take several stitches in the wound.

When a constable went to the farm of John Kreitzer of York Pa., yesterday, to place him under arrest on a charge of assault and battery, he found the young farmer lying upon the barn floor dead. He had committed suicide by drinking poison. On Saturday night Kreitzer had remained away from home until a late hour and refused to explain to his wife where he had been. This started a controversy and both the wife and mother-in-law, it is said, told the husband he would have to behave in the future. This angered Kreitzer, and he struck his wife and knocked her to the floor, and when the mother-in-law interfered he beat her severely. Then followed the charges of assault and battery. The suicide was 26 years old, and had been married two years.

ACCUSED OF ASSAULT.

John C. Furr and Harry Furr, two white men, have been arrested on the charge of attempting a criminal assault on Mary Nestlerode, the 16-year-old daughter of James Nestlerode, a white man living near Manassas, and held to await the action of the grand jury.

It is claimed that the two men, both of whom are married, went to the home of the girl in the daytime. Fortunately they were both seen and heard by some neighbors, who rescued Miss Nestlerode.

Both men immediately left for Washington before they could be arrested, but were shortly afterward apprehended and taken before Justice B. T. H. Hodge, who held them, in default of bail, to await the action of the grand jury.

John C. Furr has a wife and children living in Manassas. About 18 months ago his wife instituted suit against him for divorce, alleging bad treatment, and obtained an injunction to restrain him from interfering with either her or their children. Within the last month or two he professed reformation, became reconciled to his family and has been living with his wife.

Harry Furr has a wife and several children living in Loudoun county.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes, says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by W. F. Creighton and Co., and Richard Gibson.

Today's Telegraphic News

Sherman Notified.

Utica, N. Y. Aug. 18.—Hon. James Schoolcraft Sherman was formally notified today of his nomination as the republican candidate for vice-president. The ceremony took place at 12:30 at the Sherman residence, Senator Burrows, of Michigan, heading the committee and delivering the address of notification in response to which Congressman Sherman made his formal speech of acceptance.

This is the biggest day this community has witnessed in a couple of generations.

The decorations are the most elaborate ever seen here, electrical effects, bunting, flags, evergreen, etc. being used extensively. The day's programme opened with an artillery salute and until midnight there will be something doing every minute. Weather conditions are ideal and thousands of visitors are here to participate in the festivities.

At 11 o'clock the members of the notification committee riding in automobiles and escorted by the Conkling Unconditionals, four hundred strong, started for the Sherman residence. A band of 125 pieces headed the column. The committee reached Sherman's residence at noon and the ceremonies were soon under way. A large platform had been erected on the spacious lawn and on it were seated the members of the notification committee, the vice presidential nominee, Chairman Hitchcock of the republican national committee and others prominent in the councils of the party. An assemblage numbering ten thousand persons crowded about.

In his speech Mr. Burrows said in part:

Five times during the history of the country a vacancy has occurred in the office of the president by the death of the incumbent. Five times has the vice president been called upon to discharge the duties of president of the United States and if in the mysterious dispensation of providence such responsibility should fall upon you, your long experience in public life, the familiarity with public affairs, your mature judgment, and patriotic impulses would insure the continuance of a wise administration. Of the platform adopted by the convention you are fully advised, and the principles therein enunciated will, we are sure, receive your hearty approval.

Mr. Bryan in his recent speech of acceptance presented what he regarded as the paramount issue of the campaign in the question, "Shall the people rule? "Shall the people rule will be answered at the close of the contest in November next, as evinced by the triumphant election of the nominee of the republican party for the office of president and vice president of the United States.

At the conclusion of Senator Burrows' speech, Mr. Sherman delivered his address of acceptance. He said in part:

My acceptance of the nomination could not be made with honor unless I were in full accord with the declaration of principles adopted by the convention. Not only am I in full and complete accord with the party's platform, but I endorse every word of the statement made by Mr. Taft in his address of acceptance when notified of his nomination as the republican candidate for president. Let me say that I am a protectionist. I am sufficiently practical to value the utility of a fact higher than the beauty of a theory. I especially commend that plank of our platform which promises an early revision of tariff schedules. That pledge will be fulfilled in adjustment based in every particular upon the broad principles of protection for all American interests, alike for labor, for capital, for producers and consumers. * * * During a statutory application of this principal prosperity has abided with us. When a revenue tariff has been the law, adversity and want have been our portion. I have helped to make my party's record in the enactment of the eight-hour law, the employers' liability act, the statutes to minimize the hazard of railroad employes, the child labor law for the District of Columbia, and other enactments designed especially to improve the conditions of labor. I cannot hope to better state my position on injunctions than by a specific endorsement of Mr. Taft's Cincinnati declaration on that subject. That endorsement I make. As a nation our duty compels that by every constitutional and reasonable means the material and educational condition of the colored race be advanced. That we owe to ourselves as well as to them. * * * I believe in the maintenance of such an army, the upbuilding of such a navy as will be the guarantee of the protection of American citizens and American interests everywhere. * * * Shall the people rule? is declared by the democratic platform and candidate to be the overshadowing issue * * * now under discussion. It is no issue. Surely the people shall rule, surely the people have ruled, surely the people do rule. No party rules. * * * The overshadowing issue really is: Shall the administration of President Roosevelt be approved? Shall a party of demonstrated capacity in administrative affairs be continued in power? Shall the reins of government be placed in inexperienced hands, or do the people prefer to trust their destinies to an aggregation of experimental malcontents and theorists, whose only claim to a history is a party name they pilfered?

Secretary Root delivered brief remarks at the conclusion of Mr. Sherman's speech, as did also President Striker, of Hamilton College. Luncheon was then served in Mr. Sherman's home to the members of the notification committee and other guests and at 2:30 o'clock a start was made for Utica Park where a programme of athletics and aeronautics was the attraction.

At 6:30 tonight Mr. Sherman will entertain his guests at dinner at the Yahnundahsis Golf Club. Tonight will witness a magnificient electrical display throughout the city.

The Mad King.

Geneva, Aug. 18.—A plot of the daring conception to kidnap Otto William, the "Mad King of Bavaria," and hold him for a rich ransom has just been thwarted by the Munich police, Henri Blanc, a Swiss, and Wyler, a German naturalized American, the latter the moving spirit in the bold scheme, were cheated out of the opportunity of startling all Europe by their amazing coup, just when it seemed that the plan would succeed. Blanc and Wyler, were expelled from Bavaria Friday, when their plot was exposed. Blanc and Wyler, who were in the league with several of the prison palace guards, planned to take the "Mad King" to a retreat and there hold him for ransom. Too many were let into the scheme, however, and the police became advised of it the night before.

Harry Thaw.

Pittsburg, Aug. 18.—Referee in Bankruptcy W. Blair has set Monday, September 7 for the first meeting of the creditors of Harry K. Thaw, in the bankruptcy proceedings. At the meeting a trustee is to be selected. Thaw through his attorney Stone & Stone, filed a petition in the U. S. District Court today citing that an error had been made in the schedule for the voluntary bankruptcy petition of August 7. He asks leave to amend the schedule as the former list does not set up all the creditors whose claims are unsecured. The names of five additional creditors are added.

DIED.

Tuesday morning, August 18, 1908, LEWIS M. KEMPER, son of Kosciusko Kemper, aged 32 years. The funeral will take place from the residence, 406 Prince street, tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 5.30 o'clock. Relatives and friends of the family are invited to attend.

The Haine-Annis Scandal.

New York, Aug. 18.—"The killing of William E. Annis by Captain Peter Hains was expected by every army officer at Fort Hamilton," said one of the command today. "And the worst of it is that at any time two other tragedies of the same sort may occur as the result of orgies which have disgusted every decent officer here and of which one feature was the explosion of Mrs. Haine and W. E. Annis from the fort after Captain Haine returned from the Philippines.

"Every officer at Fort Hamilton dreads the inquest on Annis which Coroner Ambler is to hold tomorrow, for the guilty fear exposure and the decent officers at the fort and their wives dread being involved in revelations which will certainly result in wholesale transfers from this post."

If not at the inquest, it is almost certain that, at the trial, Lieutenant Malcome P. Andrews, of Fort Hamilton, and M. J. Rowan, who has been employed there, will tell of their having, a short time ago, prevented Captain Haine killing his wife and of threats of the soldier to kill Annis on sight.

"We were in Lieutenant Andrews' house," said Rowan today, "when we heard Mrs. Haine screaming and rushing into their houses found Captain Haines clutching his wife's throat while with the other hand he held a big army revolver against her head. He would surely have killed her then had not Lieutenant Andrews snatched the weapon away.

"Mrs. Haines was screaming 'My God, Pete, don't shoot. I can't die now. Let go of me, 'and when we overpowered her husband he yelled 'Let me go. I'll finish her now.' He told the lieutenant what Annis had done and swore to kill him.

"'That man Annis, who was my friend I thought,' he said, has 'wrecked my home. She has confessed it all to me. I shall kill her if I get a chance. And just wait till I get at that cur Annis.'

"As a result of that affair, Col. Ludlow wired the War Department at Washington and Captain Haine was at once transferred to Fort Hancock. Mrs. Haine was driven out of Fort Hamilton and a sentry was posted to see that Annis did not communicate with her as long as she was there."

The story told by Rowan as to Annis's relations with Mrs. Haine, will, it is said, be supplemented by Dr. Henry Houghton, who, at the inquest, will swear that Annis with his last gasp admitted that he was repaid for a wrong done Haine.

"Annis himself knew," said Houghton today, "that he was paying with his life for the wrong he had committed. He told things to me which I have as yet told no one. I will tell them to the coroner's jury. I say nothing against Annis. I only say he knew Haine had a grievance. And I will say further that taking into consideration what Annis told me, I hardly think it possible that an officer in the United States army would shoot down a man in cold blood without having great and good cause."

No move will be made today against the Haine brothers. Both Captain and T. Jenkins Haine today are in Long Island City jail. They are said to take their arrest very cooly and are confident their story of Annis's act will prove their justification.

Quiet at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 18.—After a night of frequent outbursts of the mob spirit, which refuses to be bluffed into submission by the presence of troops, the city again is quiet this morning. Daylight seemed to put a quietus on the rioters. Shortly before three o'clock firing at Eighth and Jefferson streets drew out every available man at Second Brigade Headquarters. The rioters were quickly dispersed. Squads of soldiers were fired on by small bands of rioters throughout the night, but there was no concerted action.

Public indignation at the crimes during the last five days resulting in many deaths and loss of property, crystalized today in the joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, consisting of eight hundred prominent business and professional men. The meeting was held to denounce the acts of the rioters, to assure public officials of the sympathy and support of the substantial classes in the prosecution of the offenders and to commend Gov. Deneen for his vigorous conduct, in filling the city with enough soldiers to control the situation.

An attempt to set fire to a factory building supposed to have been made by a negro, caused a serious clash between the soldiers and some negroes early today. The negroes were scattered about some vacant fields only a few blocks from the county jail and when the soldiers sought to scatter them, they were received with revolver shots. These were promptly answered, but no one was reported injured. During the night there were several outbreaks of minor character. To add to the general uneasiness there were two alarms of fire which called out the entire department. The fires had no connection with the riot situation. More arrests were made today. The ministers of the city have asked State Attorney Hatch to be unrelenting in his prosecutions.

Pastor Censures Reformers.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 18.—A remarkable sermon was delivered last night by the Rev. Sidney Goodman, Pastor of the Men's Church to a congregation which jammed the sanctuary. The minister unsparingly lashed the reformers whom he spoke of as intolerant and narrow minded. He declared that a broad spirit of justice should be shown to a city which is catering to 250,000 people bent on pleasure and recreation.

USEFUL DISCOVERIES

It is not always the greatest, most startling discoveries of science that are most useful to the human race.

Comparatively few people were directly interested in Herschel's finding of the new planet Uranus, but many thousands have been benefited by Prof. Unna's experiments, which proved beyond a question that Dandruff and Baldness are the results of the inroads of a parasitic germ which invades the roots of the hair.

The discovery of the true cause of baldness made Newbro's Herpicide possible. Herpicide effectually kills this germ. Destroy the cause you remove the effect.

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 81

The Dutch cruiser Holland and Utrecht were today ordered fitted for as speedy dispatch as possible to Curacao, August 29, is the date now set for the sailing of the Holland and October 25 for the Utrecht. When these two cruisers reached Curacao, the Netherlands will have five formidable ships in Carribean waters.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.

[Roanoke Evening News.]

A bold attempt was made Friday night to burglarize the Roanoke branch of the Portoer Brewing Company, which is located at the northern end of the Henry street bridge, not far from the Norfolk and Western general office building.

The Portner Company's plant occupies a large brick structure. On its western side there is the bridge, and on its eastern side there is a big vacant lot, which is enclosed along the street front by a high fence.

The thieves entered this grass lot and, concealed behind the fence, they went to work, and judging by what they accomplished they must be old hands at the business.

It is evident that they familiarized themselves with the surroundings. They selected the most sequestered spot and chose a window leading directly into the establishment.

As to what the thieves were after is a question that has not been determined. The police are unable to say, and Mr. C. S. Johnson, manager of the Portner branch, is a little puzzled himself, although he is inclined to believe that the splendid quality of his Hofbrau and its great reputation had made the desperadoes desperate in their determination to secure a good supply of it.

There was very little money in the building. In the safe there was about fifty-four dollars, and in the cash drawer there was about fifty-four cents. The safe contained a number of checks, but these would have been of scant value to the would-be robbers.

Therefore, it might seem as if beer was one of the objects of the raid.

While they worked and perspired over the thick wall, and grew more and more thirsty, the burglars dreamed perhaps of a delicious liquid flowing down their parched throats. And the slight aroma that trickled through the interstices of the wall gave to their hallucination a wondrous sense of reality. It drove them to renewed efforts.

In the prosecution of their task, they displayed great ingenuity. They removed the outer layers of brick, directly against the window and covering a space of about two feet square. This enabled them to shove back two of the heavy iron bars. Then by bending down another bar, they had an opening in the window large enough to admit a man's body.

It was then that the good old Hofbrau loomed up in magnificent deliciousness.

They saw the bottles, piled up in endless rows. They saw the ice chest, where an exquisite frostiness enlaced the clear and sparkling liquid.

Their goal was in sight, and they were ready to grab everything in sight, when, unfortunately for their undertaking, Mr. Ramsay, a driver for the company, who sleeps at the place, was awakened by the barking of his dog. He arose, and thinking one of the horses was in trouble, turned on a light and went down to the stable. Out of the windows, in radiant refulgence, shone that electric light, and its presence shattered the hopes and dreams of the thieves. Loving darkness even better than Hofbrau, they didn't dare to face the situation. They speedily decamped, and took away with them only the sweat of their brows and the parchedness of their throats.

Officer Johnson, of the police force, carefully investigated the matter this morning. The presence of some pen points on top of the desk indicated that the cash drawer had been opened, for the pens were inside the drawer Friday evening. But the fifty-four cents in the drawer remained untouched. So far as could be ascertained, the burglars got nothing, and even the Hofbrau remained undisturbed.

THE SPRINGFIELD TROUBLE.

One more victim was added to the death list of the Springfield, Ill., mob last night, when G. W. Scott succumbed to a gun shot wound in the lungs, inflicted Friday night.

Scott's death brings the total fatalities to six, and is the fourth chargeable to the disorder in the "black belt," near Twelfth and Madison streets. It was there that the hunted negroes made their stand, firing on the mob from windows and roofs. Another death is expected momentarily. W. H. Bowe, chief clerk in the county treasurer's office, is slowly sinking from the effects of the bullet wounds and the beating which he suffered at the hands of negroes Friday night.

The gathering of evidence began yesterday. Policemen in plain clothes were sent to search the houses of prisoners and suspects, and as a result the police station looked like a general store last night. Groceries, hardware, clothing, dry goods and shoes were recovered in great quantities, most of them bearing the price tags of the looted business houses.

Roy Young, 22 years old, one of the prisoners taken yesterday, has confessed to starting a number of fires, the police say. A search of his rooms revealed a quantity of new overalls, shoes, boys' shirts and other articles of apparel.

Altogether some 50 or more cases will be brought before the jury, and if the expectations of the state's attorney are fulfilled, several hitherto respected citizens will find themselves called upon to face serious charges in the criminal court. Many white people who left the city though fear have returned.

The exodus of the negroes from Springfield, however, seems to be permanent. There are still a few scattered colored families in a few blocks, guarded by soldiers, but they for the most part are women, children and aged men. The younger and middle-aged are few in number.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he know its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

DEATH OF MR. LEWIS KEMPER

Mr. Lewis M. Kemper, second son of Capt. Kosciusko Kemper, died at 5:45 o'clock this morning, at the Alexandria Hospital, aged 32 years, having been born in this city, March 14, 1876 Mr. Kemper had been in ill health for some time, suffering from cirrhosis of the liver, and an operation to relieve his suffering was performed upon him at the hospital on the 8th inst. He rallied from the operation and his condition improved for a few days, but a relapse came Saturday and he gradually grew worse till the end came. Mr. Kemper for some years had been in the service of the Southern Railway Company and was regarded as a most efficient accountant. He was a member of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons and of Mount Vernon Royal Arch Chapter, and had a host of friends in this city, where he had lived all his life. He leaves a widow, who is a daughter of the late W. J Entwisle and two children. His funeral will take place tomorrow evening, at 3:30 o'clock, from his late residence, No. 406 Prince street, and the services will be conducted by Rev. W. J. Morton, of Christ Church. The pallbearers will be Messrs. George Warfield, Walter Rodgers, E. O. Joyce, George H. Evans, R. E. Acton, and Frank S. Harper.

THE REPORTED ROBBERY.

No further developments have arisen in connection with the attack upon and robbery of Mrs. Cole at St. Elmo Sunday morning. According to reports some one who knew all about the premises must be implicated in the robbery, as the silverware was taken out and hid earlier in the night and it is presumed no one had access to her bed-room except those employed about the premises and could not have known about the money hidden in the bed. Another rumor has it that there were at least half a dozen people about the premises when the robbery occurred and the woman's screams would have awakened some of them. It is said that a great many vicious looking negroes have been around the house for a long time.

THE WEATHER.

This city and vicinity were visited by a thunder storm shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday evening which continued for several hours. Heavy clouds gathered early in the evening and shortly after 6 o'clock a brisk westerly wind blew, sending clouds of dust through the city, but doing no damage. Rain soon thereafter fell in copious showers, accompanied by much lightning and heavy thunder. The mercury which had registered 89° at 4 o'clock dropped several degrees and the cool breeze which followed was most refreshing. The skies cleared this morning and by 2 o'clock this evening the mercury had gotten up to 89. During the storm it is reported that the lightning struck the steeple of a church in northeast Washington and did considerable damage.

ENGINEERS IDLE.

Notwithstanding the reports from Richmond, and Spencer, N. C., about the return of men to work on the railroads, the condition in this city is not promising. It is an easy thing to find a half dozen engineers of the different railroads standing around discussing the situation and the reports from them are that they are making one and two trips in seven days and are not making living expenses. The men at the shops here are still on short time, losing two days in six, and only working 8 hours a day for four days.

THE FRIENDSHIP ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of the Friendship Fire Association held last night it was decided to attend the excursion to Luna Park tomorrow—Alexandria Hospital Day. The old engine will leave here tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock and be hauled over the road for exhibition purposes at the park. It will be in charge of Messrs. William Humphries and Dallas Peyton. Messrs. Charles King & Son Co., loaned the horses and furnished the driver for the occasion. The company also discussed the proposition of attending the Harrisonburg Firemen's Convention and it was decided to attend as individuals.

THE COLUMBIA COMPANY.

The Columbia Fire Company has about perfected arrangements for attending the State Firemen's Association, which meets at Harrisonburg on the 26th. The company will take with them the old Columbia engine and the parade reel, which have been gotten in handsome condition for the occasion. The company expects to take a large number of their members to Harrisonburg.

WELCOME VISITOR.

Mr. J. D. Maffett, of Vienna, Va., is in the city today on business. He is purchasing considerable land in this section, among the purchases being sixteen lots at Wedderburn Heights, Fairfax county, and a lot at George Washington Park, near this city. He intends to improve both pieces of property with up-to-date dwellings at an early day.

TRADES COUNCIL.

Alexandria Trades Council held an enthusiastic meeting last night and various propositions were brought forward for the betterment of the labor conditions in this city. A delegation of wagon workers was present from Washington in the interest of their organization in this city.

SCHOONER ON PILES.

The two masted schooner Quinting, owned by Mr. James O. Carter, ran on the sunken piles at the outlet of the old canal yesterday and is in a dangerous position. Efforts are being made to float her.

HOSPITAL DAY.

The day before the date set for the celebration of Alexandria day at Luna Park, for the benefit of the hospital finds, the committees in charge very sanguine.

After the distribution of thousands of tickets the committee called upon the trade of this city and secured contributions which nearly pays for the entire number of tickets distributed.

It is to be definitely understood that the tickets given free are to be used by children only. Adults are expected to pay at the gate, in this way contributing their mite, 10 cents, to the hospital fund.

The programme for the day will begin at noon, when Mayor Paff, following his proclamation declaring a half holiday, will cause the town bells to be rung and request the factory whistles to be blown.

Beginning at an early hour there will be a grand pilgrimage of children, accompanied by grown-up folks, to the park. Early in the evening the regular vaudeville show will occur. Immediately following this, the children will be tendered free rides on many of the park attractions. At eight o'clock, Congressman C. C. Carlin, on behalf of the hospital management, will welcome the visitors. Following this, there will be an exhibition of the Friendship engine throwing water. Then, an exhibition drill by Company G, 70th Regiment, Capt. Staymaker commanding, followed by the evening vaudeville performance. As heretofore stated, the railway accomodation will be ample, and the attention of the citizens' committee and the auxiliary committee from the hospital will assure the safety and comfort of all. All Alexandria will aid in the success of this benefit.

BASS FISHING.

A trip around the wharf presents sights interesting to most people. About a dozen boats—large and small—loaded with watermelons and on their decks a dozen or more colored men whose only subsistence is the amount of money they make doing odd jobs and loading freight on the various river steamers, many of which class of men would not accept a regular position. They would rather remain idle when the sun shines hot and in winter they have sisters or wives who are servants in white people's homes and who furnish provisions for them. On the other hand the wharves are lined with men catching smelt for bass fishing, for which they receive one cent each and can sell them faster than they can secure them. Bass fishing is at its height now as the Potomac river is alive with this species of fish. Not less than 50 each dayare brought to this city by different anglers, having been caught at Shepherd's the Dyke, Hunting Creek Bridge, Four Mile Run and other places.

A FINE RESORT.

In days that have passed it was not considered much of a trip to go to the Dyke, about three miles below this city. Things have changed, though, and instead of a jungle where the reptile crawled unharmed it has become a place where the slimy monster has been eliminated and located on its banks are some of the coziest cottages to be seen anywhere. The W., A. & Mt. V. Railway Co. has fitted up a nice bridge, established electric lights and the old Dyke is no more, but has been transformed into a fine rendezvous for the weary through the exertions of Mr. Percy Clift superintendent of the electric railway.

REPORTED HE WAS ROBBED.

Mr. Hendricks, of the steamer Mae, loaded with phosphate rock for the Alexandria Chemical Co., today reported to the police station that he had been robbed of a coat, hat and $70 in money. Being in a semi-drunken condition and not being able to explain where he had been last night he was locked up to await developments. Later the mate of the steamer was taken in custody in a drunken condition.

DOG KILLING.

Officer Garvey, who has been in charge of the dog wagon and who has been very successful in rounding up unlicensed canines this morning dispatched four of the animals with a Winchester rifle. He is an excellent marksman and there is no brutality connected with the killing of the canines under his keen eye.

POLICE COURT.

It was easy money for the police justice this morning as the two cases on the blotter were not heard. The one, published in yesterday's Gazette, of a young man charged with an assault on his wife was continued till tomorrow in and another minor case the offender forfeited his collateral

THE A. L. I.

The Alexandria Light Infantry held a drill at their armory last night, but were prevented from going upon the streets by the storm. The company decided to go to Luna Park tomorrow, Alexandria Hospital Day, and will leave here at 8 o'clock at night. They will give a drill at the park.

MOTION PICTURES.

There will be an entire change of pictures at the Alexandria Amusement Co's to night and the reels are of a most interesting nature.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Sutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once.". For sale by W. F. THE HAINS AFFAIR.

The police have discovered that Mrs. William Annis and Mrs. Peter Hains were intimate, and have met since the murder of William Annis by Capt. Peter Hains.

Repeatedly beaten black and blue, until almost on the verge of physical and mental collapse; locked in her room for days at a time without food or companionship, and thwarted in every attempt to make her escape, are some of the indignities which Mrs. Peter C. Hains, jr., says she received at the hands of her husband while they lived in Washington.

In an interview in Boston last night Mrs. Hains declared she would never forget the cruel treatment accorded her by the jealous army captain while residing in a fashionable neighborhood in Washington.

DESPERADO KILLED.

While on his knees at Borden Springs, before "Bell Tree" Smith, the most notorious desperado in northern Alabama, William Chandler secured an opening yesterday and killed the outlaw with the latter's own pistol. It was the custom for Smith to force men to their knees and make them pray. Smith picked a quarrel with young Chandler, covered him with his pistol, and ordered him to his knees. Chandler knelt and began praying. As this was going on Chandler's brother, David, approached and struck "Bell Tree" Smith from behind with a rock. Smith staggered and dropped his pistol. The weapon fell near the kneeling Chandler, who seized it and put five bullets into the desperado.

A race riot of serious proportions was narrowly averted this afternoon at Camp Perry, O., when the white soldier-waiter clashed with the negro cooks. The officials in charge refuse to say what started the outbreak.

TUESDAY EVENING, AUG. 18, 1908.

The Barrel on the Sidewalk.

A barrel stood on the sidewalk, and beside it stood a man. The man was dressed in laborer's clothes and apparently was in a quandary about how to get the barrel to one of the upper floors. He scratched his head and pondered, and meanwhile a crowd began to gather.

"Rig up a derrick and hoist it by hand," suggested one man with a clay pipe in his mouth.

The man beside the barrel made no response.

"Get a rope and pulley and hitch a horse to the rope. That'll get the thing up in jig time," suggested another.

The man remained silent.

"Why in the dickens doesn't he put it on the temporary elevator and take it up that way?" asked the man with red whiskers.

"I know a better way than that," said the man with patches on his trousers. "Just rig up a boatswain's outfit, and the thing can be hauled up quick as a wink."

Suddenly the man beside the barrel took a red bandanna handkerchief from his pocket, wiped his forehead, took a chew of tobacco, put the barrel on his shoulder and carried it up to the second floor.

The barrel was empty.—Milwaukee Free Press.

Our Language Is So Explicit!

The tradesman had rendered his bill, waited a month and then wrote:

"Please, sir, I want my bill."

Back came the bill with these words:

"Certainly; here it is."

The bill was returned, and in a month the tradesman again wrote:

"Kindly send me the amount of my bill."

And the answer came promptly and politely:

"Certainly; it is $104.26."

The third month the tradesman again wrote:

"Will you send me a check for the amount of my bill?"

The answer came, with a blank, unsigned check:

"Certainly; here is the check. I have kept the amount of your bill."

The fourth month the tradesman wrote:

"I want my bill paid."

And the answer came back, "So do I."

Then the tradesman gave it up.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Is Oratory a Drawback?

The great orators have not been the most fortunate aspirants for the presidency. Webster, Clay, Douglas and Blaine were idolized by their followers, not only for their abilities and personal traits, but also for their persuasive powers of speech. Horace Greeley, candidate of the Democrats and Liberal Republicans in 1872, was not a notable orator, but was none the less an effective talker. He made a speaking tour in the latter part of the campaign, and, although his position was an anomalous one, he acquitted himself with credit, even if he was overwhelmingly defeated. Tilden, who in his free soil days made speeches, obtained his mastery by his pen, not by his tongue. Grant, who was called the silent man because he could not make a speech when he first became a candidate, learned to speak very well in public, his speech for Garfield in 1880 being a good example of his development in that direction.—Boston Globe.

"Balderdash!"

An illustration of the manners of critics in bygone days is furnished by a scathing notice once printed concerning a volume of Browning's poems. It was an early volume, and Browning was delighted to receive a letter from J. S. Mill proposing to write a notice of them in the Westminster Review. A few days later his expectations were dashed by hearing from Mr. Mill that he could not write the article, as he had been forestalled by a notice which had appeared in the Westminster Review itself. With a palpitating heart Browning rushed to his club and searched the pages of the Westminster Review, to find, to his dismay, the article which had robbed him of Mr. Mill's notice. It was to this effect: "A volume of poems by Browning—balderdash!"

Oyster Shells as Medicine.

Ground oyster shells were given by the mediaeval doctors to children suffering from rickets and scrofula. Now it appears that they were right. The shells contain lime, nitrogen, iron, sulphur, manganese, magnesia, flour, bromide, phosphoric acid and iodine, all excellent for feeble children. They say that if growing children were to take powdered oyster shells in their food the teeth would be improved.—London Answers.

Why He Refused.

"Can I offer you a little more soup?" a lady asked her new paying guest.

"No, thanks!" was the quick reply.

"I hope you are not refusing because it is considered bad form to take two helpings of soup. We are not sticklers for etiquette."

"Oh, it isn't etiquette that I was worrying about—it was the soup!"

Saved the Dishes.

Husband—But why did you dismiss the cook this morning, when the Higgses are coming to dinner tonight? Wife—Because at 11 a. m. we had only exactly enough dishes left to set the table.—Judge.

He Knew.

"What do you expect to be when you come of age, my little man?" asked the visitor.

"Twenty-one," was the little man's reply.—Herald and Presbyter.

What Is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson, of Drumquin, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

TAYLOR'S GRAVE NEGLECTED.

Unknown to the vast majority of the citizens of Kentucky, the tomb of the only president of the United States that the commonwealth has within her borders to revere is overgrown with weeds and undergrowth, seven miles east of Louisville, on the Brownsboro road.

President Taylor's grave is in the burying ground of the Taylor family, established by his father, Colonel Richard H. Taylor, of revolutionary fame, on the old Taylor homestead between the Brownsboro and the river roads next to the place famous as the Glenview stock farm. It is situated on a slight eminence commanding the surrounding fields and farms, and is in plain view from the road.

The monument of New Hampshire granite was erected by the commonwealth of Kentucky through an act of the legislature of 1877-78, when an appropriation of $4,000 was made for the purpose. Of this amount $1,500 was expended by the commission, composed of General Buker J. Francis Cleveland, of Augusta, Ky., and the present Hancock Taylor, of Louisville, a grandnephew of General Taylor.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle, of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Richard Gibson.

WOMAN STABS A BOLD ROBBER.

Sitting on the side of her bed in her home in Norfolk yesterday afternoon, Mrs. D. S. Owens was startled to see a white man ransack her dresser and take a gold watch and chain. He demanded money, but failed to secure any, and, in a scuffle with Mrs. Owens, dropped the watch and was frightened from the premises, after he had been stabbed in two places by the plucky woman.

Mrs. Owens said that about 2:30 o'clock she sat on the bed to rest, having become fatigued. Without any warning, a white man, about six feet in height, appeared, and she tried to scream.

She claims that the intruder threatened to kill her if she made an outcry. In the meantime, she had glanced at the floor, and there saw a carving knife she had been using a short while before in hanging pictures. She grabbed this and attacked the thief, stabbing him in the shoulders as he whirled around. In the scuffle he dropped the watch and chain, and was again stabbed by Mrs. Owens, who was calling for help.

Several neighbors went to her assistance and the police were notified. The houses and premises were searched, but no trace of the man was found.

The Other Great Man.

Dr. Russell Cool of California happened to suppress an epidemic of measles while on a vacation trip to Tahiti, and Chief Oreaori gratefully invited him to a banquet in his primitive palace. The south sea potentate and his white guest sat amiably on the floor and dined off roast pig and other native delicacies served on broad leaves and eaten with the fingers. After dinner host and guest adjourned to seats outside the palace, lit long, fat, black cigars and gazed out over the moonlit Pacific. In the eyes of Chief Oreaori, Robert Louis Stevenson, who did so much to improve the condition of the south sea islanders, was the greatest white man that ever lived. The chief related to Dr. Cool many incidents to illustrate Stevenson's kindliness, then asked a score of questions about the health of Stevenson's widow and of his stepchildren. When the last question had been answered there followed a long period of silence. The two friends puffed slowly at their cigars and luxuriously regarded the radiant tropic moonlight glowing upon rustling palm fronds and the silvery ocean. Then Oreaori turned to the doctor and demanded, "Now tell me about John L. Sullivan!"—Harper's Weekly.

Freezing Flesh.

It is a curious fact that, although dwellers in northern climes must have known for ages that a low temperature preserves flesh from putrefaction, it never seems to have struck any one that this natural fact could be turned to artificial advantage until Lord Bacon stuffed the historic chicken with snow and thereby caught a chill which killed him. It is perhaps even more curious that an experiment resulting in the death of one of the most eminent men in the world should not have called any attention to an already well known principle which might have been readily turned to great advantage. As a matter of fact, it was not until the year 1875, 249 years after Lord Bacon's fatal experiment, that freezing was practically employed as a method of preserving flesh. This was the commencement of the frozen meat trade between America and England. Four years later a dry air refrigerator was perfected.
